

STUDIO NEWS

In this issue:

- Student Sketchbooks
- Spring Break Workshops
- Games Workshop Painting Contest and Event
- Window Art Show Ending
- Photo Consent

“Painting is just another way of keeping a diary”

-Pablo Picasso

Games Workshop Contest & Learn to Paint Event

Recently we added a fantastic range of Games Workshop miniature model figures and games to our Art Supply. Whether your child loves the sci-themed Warhammer 40K or the fantasy themed Age of Sigmar, it is an excellent British made hobby that inspires creativity and in person interaction.

We are holding a Miniature Painting Contest (deadline 28th August). To participate, simply pop into our shop or ask your child’s teacher for a FREE sample miniature to paint for the competition. The winners will receive a rare Anniversary Edition Figure. Visit us on Facebook or Instagram for details and how to enter.

If you or your child would like to learn how to paint these amazingly detailed little figures, join us on 26th February for an in studio Learn to Paint Miniatures Event. Booking is essential and can be done through our Art Supply.

If you are keen to learn more or have a closer look, we carry a wide selection of Games Workshop Miniatures and Citadel Model Paints in our Art Supply.

NEW! Student Sketchbooks

In our ongoing effort to provide the most comprehensive art instruction, we will be introducing Student Sketchbooks to our 1.5 hour term-time classes after the half-term break.

Every student will receive a sketchbook to be kept in class where they will log their artistic learning journey very much like they would be expected to do in High School or College Art Courses.

We intend for these sketchbooks to be a place where our students can keep notes, log evidence of their artistic process, write, draw or paint their thoughts, complete activities to inspire creativity, and annotate their learning journey. We anticipate that students will create a sketchbook entry between larger projects, and occasionally as a break when feeling overwhelmed or fatigued by their current project.

Window Art Show

This will be the final month of our studio art show in the windows. If your child has not yet participated, but would like to, please ask their teacher as soon as possible for artwork submission guidelines.

Don’t worry if you miss this one, we are currently planning the return of our Annual “In Person” Art Show! More details will be announced soon.

Spring-Break Workshops

Our line-up of exciting art courses for the break is now available to view on our website. Bookings can be made through our student accounts portal.

Photo Consent

At Turpentyne we have a long history of protecting our students data and likeness. As a rule do not to share any images of our students without parental consent. And we never share our students surnames online.

In order to have a record of consent, we have added a consent form to all online accounts. Please be sure to indicate your preferences the next time you are in our “student accounts portal”

TURPENTYNE FINE ART CLASSES & ART SUPPLY

Turpentyne - Home

Home | Turpentyne Ltd. \(square.site\)

