Opening Soon in Whitley Bay

Now enrolling for November!

We are tremendously excited to announce the opening of a second Turpentyne Studio next month in Whitley Bay.

With tremendous enthusiasm for art in the Northeast, we have been blessed with so many wonderful students that our Gosforth Studio is perpetually fully subscribed. Happily we have found a beautiful studio space not far from the Whitley Bay metro that will allow us to serve additional students and share our love of drawing and painting with those living nearer the coast.

At this time we do not have waiting lists for the new studio, and encourage anyone who might be interested in joining in to pre-book through the Student Accounts Portal on our website. Official class starting dates are still to be announced.

If you are interested in changing studios or simply have questions, please email whitleybay@turpentyne.com

New Half-Term of Classes 1st November—22nd December

No classes on Halloween*

Due to the IT issues we encountered in August, in addition to email, paper statements will be handed out in class before we break for the October half-term.

Now Accepting Childcare Vouchers for Workshops

We are pleased to report that Turpentyne is now registered with Ofsted and able to accept childcare vouchers toward workshop tuition.

We know that this has been a long time coming, and we are really happy to be able to offer this savings to our studio families.

Please keep in mind that we cannot accept workshop tuition for term-time classes as they are recognised by Ofsted as an “activity” and not “childcare”. This is something that we have no ability to circumvent.

Road Safety & Pick Up Time

We are now entering the darker months, and we remind you that it is essential that students be met at their classroom door for pick up. We cannot permit children under the age of 10 to run alone across Ashburton Road in the dark to meet their parent or carer. We appreciate your cooperation in ensuring their safety.

Please also be reminded that we require students to be dropped off and picked up from their art classes on time. Per our policies, repeat offenders will be charged a fee for the unscheduled “childcare”.

Thank you for your cooperation.
